

WU & ASSOCIATES WINS FOUR YEAR-END AWARDS FROM ASSOCIATED BUILDERS AND CONTRACTORS

The Associated Builders & Contractors recently honored Wu & Associates with four year-end awards, congratulating the company on its commitment to diligence, awareness, and excellence in the field. These awards included the 2013 Safety Award (New Jersey Chapter), a 2013 STEP Platinum Award (Safety Training and Evaluation Program, New Jersey and Pennsylvania Chapters), and two Excellence in Construction Awards (Rhode Island and New Jersey Chapters).

Wu & Associates is pleased to receive such prestigious awards, and continues to make safety and excellence a priority on each job site. Continually improving procedures through incentive programs and employee education, the firm is committed to reaching the highest standards possible. All project management and field supervision staff complete EM385-1-1 Site Safety & Health Officer training, and attend quarterly supervisor sessions at the company headquarters to reinforce standards. The firm is proud of its emphasis on safety enforcement, and has not suffered any safety or environmental violations or penalties for more than ten years.

In order to encourage an optimal culture for safety, Wu & Associates has also implemented an innovative safety incentive program. After a project is completed with zero accidents, an employee or subcontractor name is selected randomly to receive an all expense paid vacation to a location of their choice. This program encourages and rewards constant vigilance by all – not just for personal safety, but also the well-being of one’s neighbor.

Excitement was buzzing as the latest drawing occurred in November, at the close of renovations to Building 55 in the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. Wu employees and subcontractors celebrated with a barbeque feast, recognizing a job completed with top notch level safety enforcement. The company strives to implement this culture of safety at every job site, and firmly believes that emphasis on success fosters a sense of teamwork and excellence.
